DISMISSAL IN SUIT

AGAINST FED AGENTS

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Kansas City, Aug. 16.—The suit brought by George Teloush, owner of the Kansas City American association umpire at the local National league agents from making offers to his players, was dismissed in Judge Johnson's division of the circuit court here today.

John S. Wright, attorney for Teloush, agreed with C. C. Madison, one of the Federal league agents named in the suit to drop action against Madison. The judge then said that as the other Federal league agents named were not present it would be inappropriate for Teloush's attorneys to ask for a further continuance of the case.

Teloush's attorneys said a new suit would be filed immediately.

IT'S A BAD, BAD DAY FOR TURTLE DOVES SURE

ODD BURGLARY IS COMMITTED AT WRIGHT'S

Here's Jack Sheehan. Not to mention George Craig, Out After Them; All the Other Dead Shots Are Out Too.

It's a bad day for the turtle doves. The open season for the doves opened this morning, and pretty nearly everybody with a gun started out after them in the course of the day. Deputy Game Warden Tony Ortiz also started out, but mainly to see that the eager hunters didn't overload their bags or pockets.

The law allows twenty doves to the man in one bag, and it used to allow thirty. Mr. Ortiz and the other deputies will be keenly on the watch to see that the shooters don't inadvertently revert to the old limit.

There are said to be more doves than at any time in a long while. All along the roads, it is reported, the birds are to be found in numbers sufficient to insure early gunners success.

Among those who went after the doves are Judge George R. Craig, Frank Wendell, William Trimble, Charles Clay, Frank Quier, Don Rankin, J. P. Sheehan, Kenneth Baldwin, Charles Quier, Ray Stamm, Henry Martin, Bea Evans, a man named Clark accompanied Don Rankin.

Having failed the foregoing the rod and gun reporter took another look around and discovered that Joe Barnett, Sam Schlesin, Lou Holls and Tom Riley were also missing from town with their guns.

FIVE MEN HURT IN ACCIDENT, ONE AT RESCUE WORK

Plan to Leave Roswell October 10; to Come Prepared to Participate in Maneuvers and Athletic Events.

News that the New Mexico military institute cadets are to come to Albuquerque for the state fair has been received with much interest here and elsewhere throughout the state. The cadets have not visited Albuquerque since they were here for the National irrigation congress in 1908. Regarding the coming of the N. M. M. I. which is the "West Point of the West," the Roswell Evening News of

"recent date" says:

The New Mexico military institute cadets will go to the state fair at Albuquerque this year for their annual encampment. This has been determined by Colonel Wilson and the board of regents, following the receipt of word from the secretary of the state fair that the rate of $5 for the round trip for all men in uniform had been granted to the Santa Fe.

The cadets will leave here on a special train, probably October 10, and remain in camp at the fair grounds at Albuquerque for the entire week of the fair there. The state is furnishing the tents necessary and the fair association will feed the cadets during the week. Since there will also be a number of visitors there, the men will have an opportunity to see something of the regular service.

According to Colonel Wilson, the cadets will be prepared to take part in all parades and the athletic teams will compete in this department of the fair. The football team will have had time to get in shape, and expects to give a good account of itself. The definite announcement that the trip will be made is not only good news to the fair management who have been working hard to bring this about, but also to friends of the school who feel that this will be a big advertisement for the school.

Palladino, Mandell and Romeo were caught under the front of the car. The other three were thrown clear. The latter raised himself and drove Romeo to Domingo, where a doctor attended him. He was brought to this city on train No. 1, Mandell accompanying him. The others returned here in an automobile.

The Southwestern Firemen's company has started suit in the district court against Max Monaghan and L. C. McDonald, who seek a saloon license, for $50, alleged to be due on account.

Curio Store Visited by Thieves Who Confine Themselves to One Window, Ignoring Valuables in Others.

Burglars of modest inclinations or extremely fastidious taste got into Wright's trading post store at Gold avenue and Third street last night. They confined themselves to things in one of the four show windows and ignored more valuable articles in the other windows entirely.

The burglary was discovered this morning when the young woman left in charge by Mr. Wright, who is out of town, opened up. Entrance was gained by pulling out a bar and breaking a window in the rear.

The burglar took a number of things from the middle window in the Gold avenue side of the store. In the other windows were a fine collection of selected precious and semi-precious stones, jasperines and other ornaments in gold and silver, and other valuable curios. Not a thing in these windows was touched. There was cash in an unlocked cash box, but not a cent of it was taken.

Just what was taken the young woman at the store could not tell the police. Mr. Wright will be able to tell what is missing when he checks over the stock.
